Course Overview

This is a new innovative training program developed by NECAVIC which will provide training for electrical contractors in the new energy efficiency lighting requirements for 6 star housing contained within Section J of the Building Code of Australia (BCA).

This Lighting for Living course has been developed to educate electrical contractors and their employees on the new lighting provisions for residential lighting in new constructions as required by the Building Code of Australia. This course provides instruction on the following topics:

- The Building Codes of Australia
- 6 Star Ratings
- The Fundamentals of Lighting
- Lighting Units
- Lighting Types
- Mandatory Energy Performance Standards
- LED Technology
- The Lighting Counsel of Australia
- Power Density Adjustment Methods
- Dimmable Lighting
- Contractor Risk Design Capability

The course has been designed to provide the learner with sufficient knowledge and skills to enable them to advise clients on their basic energy efficiency needs and which strategies they could utilise within their business/property.

A summative assessment will be completed at the end of the course which will encompass the outcomes of the course.

Course Requirements

To gain entry to this course learners should be either an Apprentice Electrotechnology Electrician, a qualified Electrician, an Architect, a Builder, a Building Designer, an Electrical Contractor or an Electrical Engineer.
